Online Fabric Store Resources | To Get You Started

#1

FabricMartFabrics.com – I order from this online retailer religiously! The quality is good and the price is favorable. Signup for their promotional emails – they have sales daily, it seems and the sales are comparable with what's in season. You WON'T regret this!

#2

GorgeousFabrics.com – This online vendor comes highly recommended from other DIYers. I have not yet ordered from them, even though I do visit their site regularly. Their prices are slightly higher than I am accustomed to, but I do plan on order from them as soon as I find just the right fabric! I don't like wasting money...

#3

MoodFabrics.com – The major DIY Bloggers have affiliations with this online vendor. I have actually ordered from this vendor and visited first hand their NYC location and was impressed with their selections! Their prices are comparable to Gorgeous Fabrics, their quality is like Fabric Mart. This brand will SPOIL you (or so I've heard). I prefer cheaper brands, but this brand is well worth the potential price tag!

LowPriceFabric.com – This online vendor is endorsed by the ever-so-popular, MimiG! I have just ordered my very first selections from them and will post reviews once I receive it. The prices vary, depending on what you're looking for, but this vendor is also highly recommended from other DIY Bloggers that I trust.

GirlCharlee.com – This vendor specializes in Knit Fabrics. They have very frequent sales and lots of fabrics to choose from! This vendor is GREAT, if you like to make maxi dresses! Don't get me wrong – they have a large variety of different fabrics to select and their customer service is pretty stellar. If you ever have a question, they are very responsive to emails. Oh, did I mention that their prices are ON POINT too?? I don't typically see their fabrics all over the internet, so that tells me that their fabric is exclusive and can't just be found at your local fabric store.
